SECTION B – DEVELOPMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY

Cognitive Development

5

Cognitive Differences

Gloria has four children. According to Piaget’s theory, each one of them is at a different stage of cognitive development.

- Ben is only 6 months old so has a very limited understanding of his world.
- Mark is the eldest child and is very good at logical thinking.
- Neil is already very good at mathematics but needs to use objects to help him to solve problems.
- Rachel’s language development is very advanced but she still assumes that objects have feelings.

Using the source:

(a) Name the child who is at the sensori-motor stage of cognitive development.

SECTION C – COGNITIVE PSYCHOLOGY

Perception

10

A Discussion on Perception

Dr Green: I believe that perceptual abilities can only develop through experience.

Dr Black: I disagree. There is evidence to show perceptual abilities are innate.

Dr Brown: I am confused. Why do advertisers spend so much money on trying to alter audience’s perceptions? Is this possible?

Using the source:

(a) Name the person who supports the nativist theory of perception.
